Kelley Cawthorne Growing Again With the Addition of Government Relations Professional Christin Nohner

LANSING, MICH – Kelley Cawthorne, the Midwest’s foremost multi-client lobbying firm, continued its expansion in the Michigan market with the addition of experienced government relations professional Christin Nohner.

Kelley Cawthorne’s recent growth includes the addition of former State Representative Jason Sheppard to its lobbying team last year, and the elevation of leading government relations professionals Jim Kirsch, David Hildenbrand and Sheppard to partnership status in July of this year. The firm also promoted Natasha Oxender Kimmerly into the newly created position of Chief Operating Officer.

Christin Nohner officially joins Kelley Cawthorne on December 12th after a career as a multi-client lobbyist, association lobbyist and congressional staffer. During that time, she has developed an expertise in a number of issue areas, including energy, the environment, criminal justice, agriculture and more.

Nohner will also help to expand Kelley Cawthorne's health care practice group, lead by firm partner Carrie Linderoth. Nohner brings extensive experience in the field of health policy after previously serving in government affairs leadership positions at two of Michigan's premier health advocacy organizations, the Michigan State Medical Society and Michigan Academy of Family Physicians.

Nohner will also put an extensive understanding of federal government affairs to work for Kelley Cawthorne's clients. Prior to her work in Lansing, she served on staff in both the U.S. House of Representatives and U.S. Senate in Washington, D.C.

Nohner, of Haslett, is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame and earned her Master of Public Policy from George Mason University in Fairfax, Virginia.

Kelley Cawthorne President Melissa McKinley:

"We are excited to add someone of Christin's caliber to Kelley Cawthorne's lobby team, especially at a time when Michigan's governmental leadership is undergoing a major change in direction. With this expansion, Kelley Cawthorne will continue to skillfully advocate for Michigan citizens in key policy areas, including health care, environment, education and manufacturing."

Kelley Cawthorne Chief Executive Officer Rob Elhenicky:

"We know clients select Kelley Cawthorne because they need ethical, effective and experienced representation when pursuing their public policy needs in state capitol buildings across the Midwest and beyond. Christin Nohner brings all those things to the table for our clients.”

Kelley Cawthorne’s Christin Nohner:

“Kelley Cawthorne’s reputation as a leader in the health care, pharmaceutical and environmental fields fits perfectly with my passion for working to improve the quality of life of our families, friends and fellow citizens across Michigan. I could not be happier to be joining this team as Michigan enters an exciting new era in 2023.”
